Grade 4 : First Year Activities, techniques, notes, etc.
Week 1: Development of self in the society. Learners warm up the body: • Do different breathing exercises: Stand upright in a relaxed manner. Take deep breaths slowly. Bend forward and touch the ground while breathing out. Repeat several times. • Point and flex muscles while doing breathing exercise. • Circle wrists and ankles while breathing.	Definition of Body percussion:

Learners cool down and relax:

- Lie down and repeat the breathing exercise while relaxing the muscles.
- Do breathing exercise and visualize different colours.

Week 3-4: Development of the Self. Changes in boys and girls

- Learners warm up the voice: use songs, sing vowels, rhymes and tongue twisters
- Learners sing songs use unison, rounds, and call and response

Week 5-6: Health and environmental responsibility. Healthy eating & dietary habits

- Teacher demonstrates what body percussion is.
- Learners do body percussion: keep a steady beat and use of different timbres (click, clap, stamp)

Body percussion is used extensively in music education, because of its accessibility—the human body is the original musical instrument and the only instrument that every student possesses. Using the body in this manner gives students a direct experience of musical elements, such as beat, rhythm, and metre and helps a student internalise rhythmic skills.

Example of body percussion:

Week 7: Health and environmental responsibility. Substance abuse. Social responsibility

- Group discussion: revise body percussion and rhythm patterns
- Learners perform short rhythm patterns using body percussion
- Learners do name games in groups: Learners say their names with an appropriate rhythm based on the syllables of the name
- Learners do concentration and listening games

Week 8: World at work. The rules of the workplace.

- Learners practice name games (e.g. use clapped rhythms and body percussion to explore the meter/accent of the names). Learners say their names with an appropriate rhythm based on the syllables of the name.

	- Learners do concentration and listening games Week 9: World of Work. History of money - Learners warm up the voice: use songs, sing vowels, rhymes and tongue twisters - Learners sing songs using unison, rounds, and call and response
Grade 4 : Second Year	Activities, techniques, notes, etc.
Week 1: Development of self in the society. Learners warm up the body: - Do breathing exercises. - Co-ordinate isolated body parts such as swinging of arms or swaying. Learners cool down and relax - Lie down and do breathing exercise. - Close eyes and visualize different moods and ideas. - Express moods and ideas through movement. Week 3-4: Development of the Self. Changes in boys and girls - Learners warm-up the voice and sing songs (unison, rounds and call and response songs) in tune and in time	Week 7: Health and environmental responsibility. Substance abuse. Social responsibility - Group discussion: revise body percussion and rhythm games. - Learners do short rhythm patterns using body percussion and the rhythms explored in the name game. - Learners add body percussion to enhance the rhythm. - Learners explore the following: clap hands, fingers, upper legs, etc. - Learners focus on listening to each other's rhythms and mimicking each other, playing in unison, varying tempo and volume. - Learners sing songs, in unison, in tune and in time to accompaniment of the group Week 8: World at work. The rules of the workplace. - Group discussion: Revise rhythm patterns and body percussion. - Learners perform short rhythm patterns: use body percussion and the rhythms explored in the name game. Body percussion is added

- Learners do voice warm up, use humming
- Learners do action songs to accompany physical warm-up.
- Learners do warm up: focus on breathing: e.g. 'paint with your breath', 'pant like a dog', etc

Week 5-6: Health and environmental responsibility. Healthy eating & dietary habits

- Teacher demonstrates different rhythm patterns.
- Learners perform notated rhythm patterns, using body percussion.

Definition of rhythm pattern:

In order to read, identify and transcribe rhythms, you need to become familiar with rhythm notation and rhythm patterns. This mainly involves indicating when a note happens and how long it lasts, and recognizing when you hear a common rhythm.

Rhythm occurs within the framework of meter, which is simply a repetitive pattern of strong and weak beats. Here are some common examples of meter:

Two-beat meter:	STRONG-weak
Three-beat meter:	STRONG-weak-weak
Four-beat meter:

to enhance the rhythm. Learners explore the following: clap hands, fingers, upper legs, etc.

- Learners focus on listening to each other's rhythms and mimicking each other, play in unison, vary tempo and volume.

Week 9: World of Work. History of money

- Learners warm-up the voice and sing songs (unison, rounds and call and response songs) in tune and in time
- Learners do voice warm up, using humming.
- Learners do action songs to accompany physical warm up.
- Learners do warm up activities: focus on breathing: e.g. 'paint with your breath', 'pant like a dog', etc.

Grade 4 : First Year
Activities, techniques, notes, etc.
Week 1: Development of self in the society. Learners do locomotor movements: • Walk, run, skip hop in different directions on own and with a partner Locomotor Movements - These are movements where the body travels through space from one location to another. Locomotor movements primarily use the feet for support however, the body can travel on other parts such as the hands and feet. Even Rhythm:	Week 3-4: Development of the Self. Changes in boys and girls • Learners create short scenes based on appropriate topics, focus on storyline • Learners create appropriate characters: show differences between characters and character's point of view in short scenes Week 5-6: Health and environmental responsibility. • Healthy eating & dietary habits

Walk - The walk is a transfer of weight from one foot to the other. Usually the heel touches first.

Run - The run is a transfer of weight from one foot to the other however, the body is propelled into the air and suspended between run steps.

Jump - The jump required the body to push off from one or both feet. Most common is a two foot take off and two foot landing. A jump can take off on one foot and land on two or take off from two feet and land on one foot.

Hop - The hop requires a push-off from one foot and landing on the same foot.

Leap - A leap is performed by pushing off from one foot and landing on the other foot. The body is suspended in the air between the push off and the landing. Can be combined with a run or walk.

Uneven Rhythm:

Skip - A combination of a step and a hop on the same foot followed by a step and hop on the other foot. The rhythm is uneven long -short. Long (the step) and short (the hop).

Gallop - A forward movement where one foot leads the gallop while the other foot follows. The lead foot steps with a bent knee and pushes off into the air and landing on the trailing foot. The rhythm is uneven, long - short. Long (the step) and short (the landing).

Slide - Is similar to a gallop performed with the right or left foot leading. The rhythm is uneven, long -short. Long (the step) and short (the landing).

- Learners do rhythm patterns: use key words from selected topics such as people at work: 'woodcutter' chop-chop-chop, 'butcher' = slice-slice, and others
- Learners use above examples to explore appropriate tempo and dynamics such as: 'chop-chop-chop' will be loud and fast, 'slice-slice' will be quiet and slow
- Learners integrate the rhythm patterns explored in the previous activity into movements – explore levels, direction and weight
- Week 7: Health and environmental responsibility. Substance abuse. Social responsibility Teacher demonstrates how to do interactive stories/
- Learners perform Interactive story telling activities: listen and respond appropriately to partners, such as tell stories in pairs on 'my favourite food', accumulation stories, echo stories, etc.

Different interactive storytelling activities:

- Co-constructed stories
- Shared stories
- Unfinished story
- Zoom stories
- Role played stories
- Analysed stories
- Shrunk stories

Learners do non-locomotor movements:

- Reach, bend, rise on their own and with a partner

Non Locomotor - These are movements that occur in the body parts or the whole body and do not cause the body to travel to another space. However, non-locomotor movements can be combined with locomotor movements such as a walk and arm swing.

Swing - a pendular motion of a body part that can move forward and backward or side to side.

Twist - a partial rotation of body parts around an axis

Turn - a full rotation of the body around a vertical or horizontal axis. Full, half or quarter turns

Shake - a short quick vibrating movement in a body part or the whole body.

Bend - a flex of a body part at a joint

Stretch - extending a body part or the whole body

Wiggle - a small or big, fast or slow curvy movement of a body part or the whole body.

Rock or sway - shift of the body weight forward, backward, side to side or in a circular pathway

- Debriefed stories
- Summarized stories
- Prompted stories

Week 8: World at work. The rules of the workplace.

- Group discussion: revise locomotor and non-locomotor movements.
- Learners do locomotor movements: walk, run, skip, hop in different directions on own and with a partner
- Learners do non-locomotor movements: reach, bend, rise on their own and with a partner

Grade 4 : Second Year

Activities, techniques, notes, etc.

Week 1: Development of self in the society.

Learners do locomotor movements:

- Skip/gallop forwards, backwards, sideways and turn in different pathways (diagonal, circles, S-shapes, etc.)

Learners do non locomotor movements:

Week 3-4: Development of the Self. Changes in boys and girls

- Group discussion on what a drama game is and the different drama games that can be performed.
- Learners take part in drama games: develop interaction and cause and effect such as counting games, name games, etc.

Drama games: Definition

Drama games are a great tool for a whole multitude of reasons. They can be part of your warm-up, help establish you as the facilitator, aid group cohesion and help students explore themes or particular skills. Games could be a beginning starter, an introducing step or as an end

- Plot games can help with a variety of narrative needs. They can be starting points, editing tools, generate stories, style exploring, alternate endings, settings.
- Trust games are all linked to promoting and establishing the positive social health of the group. If you look at cohesion and getting to know games you'll see how these are all linked and about getting the most from your group.

Voice games. The voice to an actor is so important and these games will help you think like an athlete when it comes to developing this skill. Your vocal chords need warming-up then exercising to build stamina, strength and flexibility - this in turn will help clarity, diction and expression.

- Week 5-6: Health and environmental responsibility. Healthy eating & dietary habits Teacher demonstrates how to play rhythm patterns on percussion instruments.
- Group discussion on different percussion instruments.
- Play rhythm patterns and simple polyrhythms in 2, 3 or 4 time on percussion instruments.

Definition of percussion instrument:

plenary. They are a platform for further development and are never meant to be the whole session on their own.

Different drama games

- Character games are a handy tool for creating, developing and experimenting with characters. They can be a useful starting point for your own creations or a means of exploring a particular type of character.
- Concentration games have a variety of uses. Aside from developing the skill of concentrating and expanding our concentration span they can be used to change the dynamic of particular individuals or a group at a key moment of the lesson e.g. when you want to bring wandering minds to a particular focus or a specific task.
- Energy Games. The energy of your class is really important and as the conductor of those dynamics you will need tools to help you to do this. Energy games are just the thing you need to help a group gain momentum, exaggerate and gain physical awareness.
- Getting to know the group games. For a group to work successfully together in Drama they need to feel comfortable in each other's company and trust each other. Relationships are very important within a positive and successful learning environment.
- Group cohesion games. When a group cohesion is strong you can achieve amazing things in the classroom.

A percussion instrument is a musical instrument that is sounded by being struck or scraped by a beater (including attached or enclosed beaters or rattles); struck, scraped or rubbed by hand; or struck against another similar instrument.

Examples of percussion instruments:

Week 7: Health and environmental responsibility. Substance abuse. Social responsibility

- Group discussion on what Role play is and how to do a Role Play.
- Learners perform a Role play with a beginning, middle and end, using stimulus e.g. South African poem, story, song or picture
- Learners portray character and objects in the role play, use observation, imitation and exaggeration

Week 8: World at work. The rules of the workplace.

- Group discussion: revise locomotor and non-locomotor movements.

• Improvisation games will help you develop an instinctive response, spontaneity and the confidence you need to build when improvising. When the class is confident it can be an excellent tool to develop acting skills and can help generate creative material. Be careful though, not everyone enjoys having to give instant responses and you will need to think of how you can support this. • Listening Games. The skill of listening is one of the most important you can have and how well we do it can affect a variety of things in our lives. People on average only listen to between 25 - 50% of what is said so as teachers we've got to help those young people become more effective listeners and these games will help.	• Learners do locomotor movements: skip/gallop forwards, backwards, sideways and turn in different pathways (diagonal, circles, S-shapes, etc.) • Learners do non locomotor movements: bend, rise, reach, co-ordinate arms and legs in time to music

How to make a stress ball: Materials: • Flour • Party balloons • Glue • Empty juice bottle • Funnel • Moist paper towels Instructions: • Add a funnel on top of a clean, empty juice bottle. • Add 3/4 cups of flour to the funnel then, lightly tap the juice bottle, so the flour goes down.

VISUAL ARTS GRADE 4 Term 1

- Find 3 balloons of the same colour. Blow the 1st balloon up and twist the opening 4 to 5 times so the air is trapped inside.
- Stretch the opening of the balloon and secure to the opening of the juice bottle. Release the balloon, Transfer the flour inside the balloon by turning the bottle upside down and squeezing the bottle to get the flour moving. making sure that the air doesn't escape.
- Pinch the neck of the balloon and release it from the bottle.
- Let go of the neck of the balloon and stop before the flour comes out. Try to release any trapped gas by pinching the base of the balloon.
- Place it on a flat surface and allow the flour to settle inside.
- Make a cut at the base of the neck of the balloon exposing the flour inside.
- Take the second balloon and cut the base of the neck.
- Stretch-open the balloon with the hands and place it over the top of the balloon with the flour.
- Make sure that it covers most of the surface of the first balloon.

VISUAL ARTS GRADE 4 Term 1

			• Tug on the edges of the second balloon to even out the surface and add some glue under the edges to secure it in place. • Take the third balloon, repeat the same steps. Optional: • To make the balloon look even more interesting, take a balloon of a different colour and cut the neck and make holes at the sides. • Place the balloon on top of the ball and match one of the holes to the opening of the last balloon.
		Grade 4 : Second Year • Create artworks which demonstrate the translation of own ideas, feelings and perceptions into three-dimensional work using appropriate and available materials, with a focus on: ○ line, tone, texture, spatial arrangement, contrast, composition; ○ mixing of primary and secondary colours. ○ Shares and displays work. • Explore and experiment with a wide variety of art materials, techniques (including waste materials), and colour in a spontaneous and creative way.	Grade 4 : Second Year • Teacher demonstrates how to paint on stones. • Teacher shows examples of painted stones. • Learners paint different emotions on stones.  How to Paint Rocks Step-by-Step • Look for smooth rounded stones. River stones are best. Craft stores will also have a variety of stones.

VISUAL ARTS GRADE 4 Term 1

- Participate in art activities in terms of choice and organisation of materials, with attention to safety and responsible behaviour in the work space.
- Experiment with colour, line, texture, tone, shape and space in various media in two dimensions and three dimensions, to express mood, feelings and ideas.
- Show spontaneity and a creative attitude in art activities.

- Make sure the stones are nice and clean. Wash it off with some warm water and soap and pat it dry. It can also be scrubbed it with an old toothbrush.
- Some stones have rough patches on them that will make painting a little more difficult. Sand it down with sandpaper, starting with 100 grit and moving to 150 and 220 grit until the patch is gone.
- Draw the design onto the rock. Draw it on a piece of paper beforehand to perfect it. Use a pencil, chalk, or soapstone to put in on the rock. Be sure not to draw it in too heavy since it can show through the paint.
- Start painting! Be patient and move from the biggest parts of the design to the smallest, letting each coat dry before moving on. Use a hairdryer to dry the paint faster.
- Once the design is painted, use a sealer and add a coat or two.

Materials:

- Paints – water-based or acrylic
- Fine Point Markers

Origami (from ori meaning "folding", and kami meaning "paper" is the art of paper folding, which is often associated with Japanese culture. In modern usage, the word "origami" is used as an inclusive term for all folding practices, regardless of their culture of origin. The goal is to transform a flat sheet square of paper into a finished sculpture through folding and sculpting techniques.

Modern origami practitioners generally discourage the use of cuts, glue, or markings on the paper.

The small number of basic origami folds can be combined in a variety of ways to make intricate designs.

Grade 4 : First Year • Demonstration by teacher: technique to do potato print. • Teacher shows DVD's and photos to show different patterns of potato print and the techniques that can be uses. • Group discussion on tools and equipment that is used in potato print. • Learners use a potato print pattern to create gift wrap. Tools and Equipment:

VISUAL ARTS GRADE 4 Term 2

- Experiment with colour, line, texture, tone, shape and space in various media in two dimensions and three dimensions, to express mood, feelings and ideas.
- Show spontaneity and a creative attitude in art activities.

Paper or fabric, a few potatoes, metal cookie cutters, craft knife, normal kitchen knife, sponge cloth or roller, acrylic or fabric paint.

Method

- Cut a large potato in half. Press the cookie cutter into the centre of the potato. Then, leaving the cookie cutter in the potato, slice a rather thick slice around the pattern of the cookie cutter. Remove the outer layer of potato and then the cookie cutter from the shape.
- Apply paint to the pattern. This can be done with a paintbrush, small paint roller for more even distribution or by following the technique with a kitchen sponge shown in Eraser Printing.
- Use a separate potato stamp for each colour, unless you want the colours to mix.
- Keep a scrap piece of paper on the side to test your print on and to remove excess paint if applied with a brush. Simply press your potato stamp down on the paper you want to decorate. A few prints and you will know exactly how hard to press to get the effect you desire.

Tools and equipment: Rectangles of cotton or linen fabric; Sewing machine, thread, scissors, iron; A bag of potatoes; A small, sharp, smooth (not serrated) knife; Fabric paint; Paintbrush; Pencil and ruler

VISUAL ARTS GRADE 4 Term 2

- Experiment with colour, line, texture, tone, shape and space in various media in two dimensions and three dimensions, to express mood, feelings and ideas.
- Show spontaneity and a creative attitude in art activities.

Method:

- Place two fabric rectangles right sides together. Sew around perimeter with a 1cm seam allowance, leaving a gap to turn. Turn right side out, fold opening hems inwards and pin. Run a top stitch around the outside edge. Repeat for other placemats. Press.
- Cut a potato in half and draw your design on with a pencil. Neatly cut away excess potato to reveal the shape. It should protrude by 1cm. It helps to cut the whole stamp into a block shape too.
- Dip the potato in the fabric paint, or coat it with a paintbrush. Do a few test prints on a fabric scrap. For best results wipe away any excess and apply pressure evenly. Keep fingers paint-free to limit smudges.

- Before printing the placemat, cover the surface. Keep it simple: often less is more.
- Play around with various shapes and patterns.

- Once your paint has dried, heat set it with a hot iron so they will be machine washable.

Rinse thoroughly. This will remove any residue from the glass and allow for the best adhesion of the glue to the glass. Using a photo or paper, punch a hole in it with a 1.25" hole punch by placing the hole over images in magazines, cereal boxes, newspapers, books, or other sources. This will give a good idea of what the image will look like as a refrigerator magnet.• After an image is selected, use scissors to trim the size down so it will fit into the hole punch. Be sure not to cut it too small.• Align the image in the hole-punch and make the cut. It is easier to align the image if the hole-punch is used upside down; this way the final cut can be seen. It will show a nice round cut-out of the image. If scissors are used for the cut-out, use a circular object to outline the image.• Add a bit of glue to the back of the glass gem. Spread it thin! Grade 5 : First Year

Activities, techniques, notes, etc.

Week 1: Development of Self in Society. Positive Self Concept Formation.

- Learners do active relaxation in stillness and movement (e.g. tense and release exercises; use of imagery to loosen hands, fingers, shoulders, neck, face, spine, hip joints, legs, feet).
- Learners practice travel (consider direction, weight, levels) and freeze: - in personal (own) and general (shared) space - in movement and in games - in duple or quadruple meter (2/4 or 4/4), or free.

Week 3: Health, Social and Environmental Responsibility. How to do your own budget, income and expenditure.

- Group discussion: revise creative drama games.
- Learners perform name games (e.g. use clapped rhythms and body percussion to explore the meter/accent of the names).

Week 3 (continue)

- Listening Games. The skill of listening is one of the most important you can have and how well we do it can affect a variety of things in our lives. People on average only listen to between 25 - 50% of what is said so as teachers we've got to help those young people become more effective listeners and these games will help.
- Plot games can help with a variety of narrative needs. They can be starting points, editing tools, generate stories, style exploring, alternate endings, settings.

Trust games are all linked to promoting and establishing the positive social health of the group. If you look at cohesion and getting to know games you'll see how these are all linked and about getting the most from your group.

Voice games. The voice to an actor is so important and these games will help you think like an athlete when it comes to developing this skill.

Drama games: Definition

Drama games are a great tool for a whole multitude of reasons. They can be part of your warm-up, help establish you as the facilitator, aid group cohesion and help students explore themes or particular skills. Games could be a beginning starter, an introducing step or as an end plenary. They are a platform for further development and are never meant to be the whole session on their own.

Different drama games

- Character games are a handy tool for creating, developing and experimenting with characters. They can be a useful starting point for your own creations or a means of exploring a particular type of character.
- Concentration games have a variety of uses. Aside from developing the skill of concentrating and expanding our concentration span they can be used to change the dynamic of particular individuals or a group at a key moment of the lesson e.g. when you want to bring wandering minds to a particular focus or a specific task.
- Energy Games. The energy of your class is really important and as the conductor of those dynamics you will need tools to help you

Your vocal chords need warming-up then exercising to build stamina, strength and flexibility - this in turn will help clarity, diction and expression

Week 4-5: Health, Social and Environmental Responsibility. Social Factors that contribute to substance abuse.

- Teacher demonstrates different action songs.
- Learners do voice warm up exercises, use humming.
- Learners do action songs to accompany physical warm ups.

Week 7: Social responsibility. Democracy and Citizenship.

to do this. Energy games are just the thing you need to help a group gain momentum, exaggerate and gain physical awareness.

- Getting to know the group games. For a group to work successfully together in Drama they need to feel comfortable in each other's company and trust each other. Relationships are very important within a positive and successful learning environment.
- Group cohesion games. When a group cohesion is strong you can achieve amazing things in the classroom.
- Improvisation games will help you develop an instinctive response, spontaneity and the confidence you need to build when improvising. When the class is confident it can be an excellent tool to develop acting skills and can help generate creative material. Be careful though, not everyone enjoys having to give instant responses and you will need to think of how you can support this.

PERFORMING ARTS

Grade 5 : Term 1

Content : Warm up and play

- Group discussion: revise rhythm patterns.
- Learners perform short rhythm patterns (crotchets, crotchet rests, minims and minim rests) use body percussion and/or percussion instruments.
- Learners perform rhythm patterns of different note values (semibreve, minim, crotchet, quaver and the equivalent rests), use body percussion and percussive instruments.

Definition of rhythm pattern:

In order to read, identify and transcribe rhythms, you need to become familiar with rhythm notation and rhythm patterns. This mainly involves indicating when a note happens and how long it lasts, and recognizing when you hear a common rhythm.

Rhythm occurs within the framework of meter, which is simply a repetitive pattern of strong and weak beats. Here are some common examples of meter:

Two-beat meter:	STRONG-weak
Three-beat meter:	STRONG-weak-weak
Four-beat meter:	STRONG-weak-weak-weak

Uneven Rhythm:

Skip - A combination of a step and a hop on the same foot followed by a step and hop on the other foot. The rhythm is uneven long - short. Long (the step) and short (the hop).

Gallop - A forward movement where one foot leads the gallop while the other foot follows. The lead footsteps with a bent knee and pushes off into the air and landing on the trailing foot. The rhythm is uneven, long -short. Long (the step) and short (the landing).

Slide - Is similar to a gallop performed with the right or left foot leading. The rhythm is uneven, long -short. Long (the step) and short (the landing).

Non Locomotor - These are movements that occur in the body parts or the whole body and do not cause the body to travel to another space. However, non-locomotor movements can be combined with locomotor movements such as a walk and arm swing.

Swing - a pendular motion of a body part that can move forward and backward or side to side.

Twist - a partial rotation of body parts around an axis

Turn - a full rotation of the body around a vertical or horizontal axis. Full, half or quarter turns

Shake - a short quick vibrating movement in a body part or the whole

Week 3: Health, Social and Environmental Responsibility. How to do your own budget, income and expenditure.

- Group discussion: revise locomotor and non-locomotor movements.
- Learners do locomotor and non-locomotor movements, individually and in unison, in time to a beat (include jump, turn, bend, stretch, twist, skip, gallop, crawl, roll, slide, swing, sway, reach, push, pull), with and without imagery.

Locomotor Movements - These are movements where the body travels through space from one location to another. Locomotor movements primarily use the feet for support however, the body can travel on other parts such as the hands and feet.

Even Rhythm:

Walk - The walk is a transfer of weight from one foot to the other. Usually the heel touches first.

Run - The run is a transfer of weight from one foot to the other however, the body is propelled into the air and suspended between body.

Bend - a flex of a body part at a joint

Stretch - extending a body part or the whole body

Wiggle - a small or big, fast or slow curvy movement of a body part or the whole body.

Rock or sway - shift of the body weight forward, backward, side to side or in a circular pathway.

Week 4-5: Health, Social and Environmental Responsibility. Social Factors that contribute to substance abuse.

run steps.

Jump - The jump required the body to push off from one or both feet. Most common is a two foot take off and two foot landing. A jump can take off on one foot and land on two or take off from two feet and land on one foot.

Hop - The hop requires a push-off from one foot and landing on the same foot.

Leap - A leap is performed by pushing off from one foot and landing on the other foot. The body is suspended in the air between the push off and the landing. Can be combined with a run or walk.

Week 8: World of work. Workplace Rules and Processes.

- Group discussion: revise locomotor and non-locomotor movements.

Mime exercises help further develop oral expression and self-esteem. By using attentiveness, students further develop their observational skills through focus and detail.

Definition of Body percussion:

Body percussion is used extensively in music education, because of its accessibility—the human body is the original musical instrument and the only instrument that every student possesses. Using the body in this manner gives students a direct experience of musical elements, such as beat, rhythm, and metre and helps a student internalise rhythmic skills.

Example of body percussion:

SECTION 4: ASSESSMENT

Introduction

This section on assessment standardises the recording and reporting processes for the CAPS Grades R to 5 for learners with Severe Intellectual Disability. It also provides a policy framework for the management of School Based Assessment (SBA) and School Assessment Records.

It is required of teachers to offer a differentiated form of assessment, as learners with moderate to severe intellectual disability and learning difficulties also have diverse learning styles and support needs. Since a learner or learners may be functioning on different levels, the assessment / recording / reporting system must make provision for reflecting the level(s) of each individual learner. These different levels should be outlined in the Individual Support Plan which should be developed at the beginning of the year in accordance with the procedures contained in the Policy on Screening, Identification, Assessment and Support (SIAS). Each learner, regardless of his/her number of years in the school, must have access to various forms of assessment best suited to his/her competences, learning styles, strengths and needs. The targets set for each learner in terms of attainment of knowledge and skills outlined in each Subject Statement will always strive to take a learner to the next level and should never set a ceiling on learning potential. Individualised adaptation is required in terms of content, methods of presentation, classroom pedagogy, pacing of instruction and accommodations in assessment. The principle is to have high expectations for each learner, to identify and address barriers to learning so as to ensure fairness in assessment (See Chapter 9 of the National Protocol for Assessment, 2011).

Assessment does not imply that after every lesson the learners must complete a worksheet/assignment or project, but will be based on observation and recording of progress steps attained during the lesson or a series of lessons. Formal assessment can be done in a format which would be suitable for each learner, e.g. through written or oral assessments, or by making use of a range of accommodations measures, e.g. a reader and a scribe. The main aim is to be able to develop a report which is based on definable attainment (even through the smallest of steps) as prescribed in each subject and can be shared with parents and care-givers on at least a quarterly basis so as to elicit their participation and co-operation in the support programme of the learner. At the end of the year a Statement of Achievement/Report card must be made available on which the Individual Support Plan for the following year will be based. There will be no learner retention, as the Individual Support Plan and the Curriculum Schedule (see SIAS Form 124) will indicate at which grade level learners are working in each subject.

Assessment principles

4.2.1. Definition

Assessment is a continuous planned process of identifying, gathering and interpreting information about the performance of learners, using various forms of assessment. It involves four steps: generating and collecting evidence of achievement; evaluating this evidence; recording the findings and using this information to understand and thereby assist the learner's development in order to improve the process of learning and teaching. Assessment should be both informal (Assessment for Learning) and formal (Assessment of Learning). In both cases regular feedback should be provided to learners to enhance the learning experience.

Assessment is a process that measures individual learners' attainment of knowledge (content and concepts) and skills by collecting, analysing and interpreting the data and information obtained from this process to:

enable the teacher to assess a learner's progress in a reliable way.

inform learners of their strengths, areas to be developed and progress.

assist teachers, parents and other stakeholders in making decisions about the learning process, the progress of learners and the planning for their individualised support.

Assessment should be mapped against the content, skills, intended goals and topics specified in the learning programme. In both informal and formal assessments it is important to ensure that in the course of a school year:

all of the topics and content are covered.

the full range of skills is included.

a variety of different forms of assessment are used.

4.2.2. Informal Assessment or Daily Assessment

Assessment for learning has the purpose of continuously collecting information on a learner's achievement that can be used to improve their learning. Informal assessment is a daily monitoring of learners' progress. This is done through observations, discussions, practical demonstrations, learner-teacher conferences, informal classroom interactions, etc. Informal assessment may be as simple as stopping during the lesson to observe learners or to discuss with learners how learning is progressing. Informal assessment should be used to provide feedback to the learners and to inform planning for teaching but need not be recorded. It should not be seen as separate from learning activities taking place in the classroom.

Learners or teachers can assess their performance in the tasks. Self-assessment and peer assessment actively involves learners in assessment. This is important as it allows learners to learn from and reflect on their own performance. The results of all the informal daily assessment tasks may be recorded based on assessment instruments used such as rubrics and checklists. This may serve to give feedback to the learners, their parents and the school management team.

Informal, on-going assessments should be used to scaffold the acquisition of knowledge and skills and should be the stepping stones leading up to formal assessment.

4.2.3. Formal Assessment

All assessment tasks that make up a formal programme of assessment for the year are regarded as formal assessment. Formal assessment tasks are marked and results are formally recorded by the teacher. All formal assessment tasks are subject to internal moderation for the purpose of quality assurance and to ensure that appropriate standards are maintained in the school. Assessment tasks should always set high expectations for learners.

To implement formal assessment the teacher should:

Ensure that the formal assessment task coincides with the practical skills and theoretical work embedded in the practical skill corresponding with the tasks performed on that day or within the previous week;

Explain the task to guide the learner, show an example of the completed task in order for the learner to know exactly what to do and what is expected;

Divide the class, according to abilities, in more than one group and give a task with similar content, but differentiated in terms of level of difficulty, abstractness or method of questioning, to all the learners. The way in which the assessment task is set should be in reach of the learners' level of development whilst also setting targets for the next step of development;

Written tests could be set to assess theoretical knowledge within a set time, allowing for assessment accommodations in line with learners' individual needs;

Write the date of expected completion of the task in the learner's book;

Compile a suitable assessment tool; and Formal assessment should reflect 20 % theoretical knowledge embedded in practical work. Eighty percent (80%) should be practical work.

The formal assessment requirements are indicated in the formal School-Based Assessments table. In the three core subjects, the ratio may be adapted to the needs of the learners. The focus however must be on practical skills and not on the written tasks.

Formal School-Based Assessments
Term 1	Term 2	Term 3	Term 4
Minimum of 1 worksheet/test/activity per term in order for 20 % of rating codes to reflect on theoretical knowledge	Minimum of 1 worksheet/test/activity per term in order for 20 % of rating codes to reflect on theoretical knowledge	Minimum of 1 worksheet/test/activity per term in order for 20 % of rating codes to reflect on theoretical knowledge	Minimum of 1 worksheet/test/activity per term in order for 20 % of rating codes to reflect on theoretical knowledge

In Creative Arts and Art and Crafts, the above table is not applicable. In these two subjects, a minimum of 4 practical assessment tasks should be completed. Theoretical content will not be assessed. Refer to the learning programme for assessment requirements.

In Physical Education assessment, the above tables does not apply. Refer to the learning programme for assessment.

Assessment in the CAPS Grades R to 5 for learners with Severe Intellectual Disability is underpinned by the objectives of the National Qualifications Framework (NQF). These objectives are to:

Create an integrated national framework for learning achievements;

Facilitate access to and progression within education, training and career paths;

Enhance the quality of education and training;

Redress unfair discrimination and past imbalances and thereby accelerate employment opportunities;

Contribute to the holistic development of the learner and preparation for the world of work by addressing:

social adjustment and responsibility;

moral accountability and ethical work orientation;

resilience and adaptability;

economic participation and entrepreneurial skills; and nation-building.

The principles that drive these objectives are:

- Integration

To adopt a unified approach to education and training that will strengthen the capacity of learners to adapt to the requirements of the workplace.

- Relevance

To be dynamic and responsive to workplace needs and a range of employment fields.

- Credibility

To demonstrate national and international values and recognition of qualification and acquired competencies and skills.

- Coherence

To work within a consistent framework of principles.

- Flexibility

To allow for creativity and resourcefulness when achieving skills to cater for different learning styles and use a range of assessment methods, instruments and techniques.

- Participation

To enable stakeholders to participate in setting standards and co-ordinating the achievement of the qualification.

- Access

To address barriers to learning at each level to facilitate learners' progress.

- Progression

To ensure that the qualification framework permits individuals to move through the levels of the national qualification via different, appropriate combinations of the components of the delivery system.

- Articulation

To allow for vertical and horizontal mobility in the education system when accredited pre-requisites have been successfully completed.

- Validity of assessments

To ensure assessment covers a broad range of knowledge, skills, values and attitudes to demonstrate applied competency. This is achieved through:

- clearly stating the skill to be assessed;
- selecting the appropriate or suitable evidence;
- matching the evidence with a compatible or appropriate method of assessment; and
- selecting and constructing an instrument(s) of assessment.

- Reliability

To assure assessment practices are consistent so that the same result or judgment is arrived at if the assessment is replicated in the same context. This demands consistency in the interpretation of evidence; therefore, careful monitoring of assessment is vital.

- Fairness and transparency

To verify that no assessment process or method(s) hinders or unfairly advantages any learner. The following could constitute unfairness in assessment:

- Inequality of opportunities, resources or teaching and learning approaches
- Bias based on ethnicity, race, gender, age, disability or social class
- Lack of clarity regarding topic, content or skill being assessed
- Comparison of learners' work with that of other learners, without taking into account differences in learning styles, language and culture.

- Practicability and cost-effectiveness

To integrate assessment practices within the teaching and learning process and strive for cost and time-effective assessment.

Managing assessment

4.3.1. Types of Assessment

Assessment benefits the learner and the teacher. It informs learners about their progress and helps teachers make informed decisions at different stages of the learning process. Depending on the intended purpose, different types of assessment can be used.

Baseline assessment: At the beginning of a year or learning experience, baseline assessment establishes the knowledge, skills, values and attitudes that learners bring to the classroom. This knowledge assists teachers to plan learning programmes and learning activities flexibly enough to accommodate a wide range of learning styles and learning needs. This assessment should be done at three levels, namely to determine:

Progress with the curriculum

- Are learner learning what they were taught?
- Are they at the right entry point to 'grasp' the content worked on in the classroom?
- Are they practicing and performing as expected?
- Are they applying the facts, concepts and/or skills being learned?

Interests

- Are learners engaged in the lessons and activities?
- Are they showing interest in a new topic or area of study?
- Are they sharing their interests with others?

Characteristics

- What are their preferred learning styles (e.g., whole class teaching or pair work)?
- What are their responses to the content?
- What are their responses to the difficulty level of instruction?
- What are their responses to the pacing of instruction?
- What are their responses to the environment?

Diagnostic assessment: This assessment diagnoses the nature and causes of learning barriers experienced by specific learners. It is followed by guidance, appropriate support and intervention strategies. This type of assessment is useful to make referrals for learners requiring specialist assistance.

Formative assessment (Informal Assessment): This assessment monitors and supports teaching and learning. It determines learners' strengths and areas to be addressed and provides feedback on progress. It determines if a learner is ready for summative assessment.

Summative assessment (Formal Assessment): This type of assessment gives an overall picture of the learner's progress at a given time.

4.3.2. Planning Assessment

An assessment plan should cover three main processes:

Collecting evidence: The assessment plan indicates which learning programme topics, content and skills will be assessed, what assessment method or activity will be used and when this assessment will be conducted.

The assessment tasks may be broken down (designed down) into smaller, achievable steps and support may gradually be withdrawn as the learner master the content/skills. Thus, designing down means to look at the assessment goal and dividing this into smaller components which are spread over a longer period.

Two or more grades may be straddled, in other words the evidence may be collected over more than one grade within a subject. But straddling should be carefully recorded and monitored through Form 125 of the SIAS Protocol.

Recording: The process of recording refers to the assessment instruments or tools with which the assessment will be captured or recorded. Therefore, appropriate assessment instruments must be developed or adapted.

Reporting: All the evidence is put together in a report to deliver a decision for the subject. Reporting must reflect the straddling that has been applied and should provide guidance to parents through meaningful descriptive paragraphs on what has been achieved and what the next expected outcomes are.

4.3.3. Methods of Assessment

Methods of assessment refer to who carries out the assessment and includes teacher assessment, self-assessment, peer assessment and group assessment.

TEACHER ASSESSMENT	The teacher assesses learners' performance against given criteria in different contexts, such as individual work, group work, etc.
SELF-ASSESSMENT	Learners assess their own performance against given criteria in different contexts, such as individual work, group work, etc.
PEER ASSESSMENT	Learners assess another learner or group of learners' performance against given criteria in different contexts, such as individual work, group work, etc.
GROUP ASSESSMENT	Learners assess the individual performance of other learners within a group or the overall performance of a group of students against given criteria.

4.3.4. Assessment tools/instruments to execute assessment

An assessment tool is the instrument the teacher utilizes to execute the assessment. When choosing and assessment tool ensure that the tool:

- is appropriate for the selected assessment method;
- provides the most valid and reliable information on the learners' performances;
- measures the objectives of the lesson.

Examples of assessment tools are checklist, rubrics, questionnaires, worksheets and video recordings.

A rubric serves as an objective assessment tool that provides, at varying levels, clear descriptions of the characteristics of the tasks. The descriptions or criteria in the rubric enables learners to understand what the teacher expects from them and complete the task accordingly. Rubrics are either holistic or analytic.

Rubrics should explain the competence level descriptors for the skills, knowledge, values and attitudes (SKVAs) a learners must demonstrate to achieve each level of the rating scale. The relevant content must be used to create the rubric to assess the task or question. The descriptions must clearly indicate the minimum level of attainment for each category on the rating scale.

Analytical descriptive rubrics focus on elements of the product or performances. Descriptive sentences are formulated for each of the seven rating codes, with the best performance reflected with a score of 7 and the poorest with a score of 1. This is the most reliable and trustworthy assessment tool.

Task lists and checklists are examples of a holistic rubric and show the learners what needs to be done. They consist of short statements describing the expected performance in a particular task. The statements on the checklist can be ticked off when the learner has adequately achieved the criterion. Checklists and task lists are useful in peer or group assessment activities.

Learners must do a minimum of 5 activities/projects/worksheets/tests per term 1 to 4. The teacher compiles the activities/worksheets/tests and these should consist of activities that require the learner to:

Identify the correct answer/picture/object – the question as well as the answer may consist of images/objects, e.g. Boardmaker or clip art images;

Match column A to B and both columns may consist of pictures/objects;

Fill in the missing words. The missing words may be available to the learners (on a separate sheet or printed on the worksheet) and they can copy the words, or write the words on the dotted lines provided by the teacher;

Perform a skill other than writing, e.g. to colour, to cut and paste in specified groups, to find pictures in a magazine and cut and paste in book; or Provide answers.

The following should at least be included in the Teacher's Assessment or Planning and Assessment File:

Programme of Assessment for the grade

The tools (rubric, checklist, etc.) used for each assessment task

A mark sheet/record sheet for each assessment task

The learners Evidence must at least include:

Classwork book

Worksheet file

Evidence of learner performance must be available for quality assurance. This may be in the form of a Portfolio of Evidence (POE) which will include the learners' classwork books and the Support Needs Analysis (SNA).

School Assessment Programme

The Programme of Assessment takes place continuously and should commence in the second week of each term. The programme of assessment should include a minimum of five (5) assessment goals per subject. The programme of assessment should be recorded in the Teacher's assessment file or planning file (which may serve a dual purpose).

The following should at least be included in the Teacher's Assessment or Planning and Assessment File:

The assessment goals for each subject

The tools used for each assessment task

The learners Portfolio of Evidence must at least include:

The assessment tasks according to the assessment programme as indicated below

The assessment tools or instruments for the task

A record of the rating code (and comments) achieved for each task.

Eighty to hundred percent (80% - 100%) of formal assessment should consist of practical tasks/activities/skills. Each learner should do a variety of practical tasks and activities during each term as indicated in the learning programmes.

Respond to images and craft objects used in popular culture, pictures and photographs in terms of purpose, content, form, contrast and meaning. Explore and experiment with a wide variety of art materials, techniques (including waste materials), and colour in a spontaneous and creative way. Demonstrate active involvement in individual and group art-making activities and an ability to share art-making equipment. Discover simple geometric shapes such as circles, lines, triangles and squares, and combines and arranges them in patterns.	Explore the immediate environment using the elementary functions of line, shape, colour and contrast in three-dimensional work. Engage in creative art processes: • present images of own world in various media; • use the senses and emotions to explore design elements, with emphasis mainly on primary colours and line. Create artworks which demonstrate the translation of own ideas, feelings and perceptions into three-dimensional work using appropriate and available materials, with a focus on: • line, tone, texture, spatial arrangement, contrast, composition; • mixing of primary and secondary colours. • Shares and displays work Create patterns using geometric shapes; discuss rhythm and repetition Participate in art activities in terms of choice and organisation of materials, with attention to safety and responsible behaviour in the work space.

		Use imagination and fantasy to play with and explore shapes, forms, lines, colours and patterns.	Experiment with colour, line, texture, tone, shape and space in various media in three dimensions, to express mood, feelings and ideas. Show spontaneity and a creative attitude in art activities.

Recording and Reporting

Recording is a process in which the teacher documents the level of a learner's performance in a specific assessment task. It indicates learner progress towards the achievement of the knowledge and skill. Records of learner performance should provide evidence of the learner's progression. Records of learner performance should also be used to verify the progress made by teachers and learners in the teaching and learning process.

Reporting is a process of communicating learner performance to learners, parents, schools, and other stakeholders. Learner performance can be reported in a number of ways. These include report cards, parents' meetings, school visitation days, parent-teacher conferences, phone calls, letters, class or school newsletters, etc.

Good record keeping is essential in all assessment, particularly in continuous assessment. A record book or file must be kept up to date by each teacher. It should contain:

- learners' names;
- dates of assessment;
- name and description of the assessment activity;
- the results of assessment activities, according to Subject;
- comments for support purposes.

Teachers in all grades issue formal report cards quarterly indicating the competence level of the learner and as stated above also provide explanatory notes on what the learner has achieved per subject and what could be done by the parents at home to provide further stimulation.

The report cards may either be in narrative form that states the theory embedded in the skills and skill performed, or in a rating code as follows:

Rating code	Description of competence
7	Outstanding achievement

6	Meritorious achievement
5	Substantial achievement
4	Adequate achievement
3	Moderate achievement
2	Elementary achievement
1	Not achieved

The reports should always be a combination of both the narrative form and rating codes. All records must be accessible, easy to interpret, securely kept, confidential and helpful in the teaching and reporting process. The school assessment policy determines the details of how record books must be completed. Schools are required to provide quarterly feedback to parents, using a formal reporting tool, such as a report card. The schedule and the report card should indicate the overall level of performance of a learner.

NOTE:

Criterion referencing is best used to describe learner's performance in a skill. Teachers must make use of suitable analytical descriptive rubrics when assessing a learner's competence for a specific skill using practical demonstrations.

Moderation of Assessment

Moderation refers to the process that ensures that the assessment tasks are fair, valid and reliable. Moderation must be implemented at school as required. Comprehensive and appropriate moderation practices must be in place for the quality assurance of all subject assessments. The formal School-Based Assessment and the practical assessment tasks should be moderated internally and if necessary by the relevant subject specialists at the district.

4.7.1. Moderation serves five purposes:

It must ascertain whether subject content and skills have been sufficiently covered.

The moderator must ensure that the correct balance of cognitive demands are reflected in the assessments.

The assessments and marking are of an acceptable standard and consistency.

The moderator must make judgements about the comparability of learner performance across schools; whilst recognising that teachers teach in different ways.

The subject specialist/moderator must identify areas in which a teacher may need development and support and must ensure that this support is provided.

4.7.2. Internal moderation

Assessment must be moderated according to the internal moderation policy of the School, Provincial and National Departments. Moderation is a continuous process. The moderator's involvement starts with the planning of assessment methods and instruments and follows with continuous collaboration with and support to the assessor. Internal moderation creates common understanding of topics and skills and maintains these across the learning programmes.

Moderation is therefore an on-going process and not a once-off end-of-year event.
