What to do

1. Listen to your teacher reading a Moon festival tale: Lin Yi's Lantern.
2. Discuss the story and answer questions orally.
3. Retell the story.

ORAL QUESTIONS

1. Is the author trying to persuade, inform or entertain the reader?

Inform and entertain the reader.

2. What is the main idea of this story?

The main idea of the story is about doing the right thing and the rewards that come from putting others first.

Lin Yi faces a moral dilemma, and learns that doing the right thing for its own sake is the best course of action, and that luck may shine on those who act morally.

This sweet story carries a valuable message. When Lin Yi is faced with a choice, he decides to do the right thing. The story follows Lin Yi to the market where he does the shopping for his mother. He tries very hard to bargain well, all the while keeping his eye on the red rabbit lantern that he wants to buy. He has a couple of opportunities to disobey his mother, but chooses to follow his conscience.

3. How do you feel about the boy Lin Yi?

Lin Yi sets an example to all of us by choosing to follow his conscience and do the right thing.

4. What do you think was the most important part of the story? Why?

Listen to Learners' own answers and support with questions to underline the main message of the story.

The most important part of the story is where Lin Yi decides to do the right thing and buy the peanuts for uncle Hui and not the red rabbit lantern for himself.

5. Reflect on the impact of the story on you as listener. Which character do you feel most empathy with and why?

I feel most empathy with the little boy Lin Yi, because he chooses to do the right thing and put others first even when it means that he will not have the lantern that he wants so much.

6. Talk about the setting of the story. Describe the setting.

The story takes place in a Chinese market.

7. Give a short summary of the story in your own words.

Lin Yi is given money to buy items at the market for tonight's Moon Festival. If he bargains well, he can purchase a red rabbit lantern for himself. But he must purchase everything on his mother's list first!

TEXT: STORY (LIN YI'S LANTERN)

“Now, tell me again what you are to buy from the market,” said Lin Yi’s mother.

Lin Yi counted the items off on his fingers as he repeated the list once more.

“Good boy,” said his mother.

“Can I buy a red rabbit lantern for the moon festival – please?” begged Lin Yi.

“Well, that is up to you,” said his mother. “I have no money to spare but if you bargain well you may have money left for a red rabbit lantern.”

Lin Yi smiled happily. “That won’t be a problem, I can bargain better than anyone I know.”
