Transport is one of the most important auxiliary functions of	60 commerce. It is often referred to as the life-blood of commerce and	120 industry. Without modern mechanised trans-port the economic machine	178
with its mass production for a world market, would not be able to	235 function at all. Trains, steamships and aeroplanes have lent mobility to	287
goods and people.	344
	362
Commodities that were almost worthless before have been given value by being transported to places where they were urgently needed; most	419
parts of the world have been linked together in an economic whole;	478
large-scale production and international specialisation have been made	537 possible by modern transport. Transport gives place value and utility	596
to commodities in the mountains of Barberton.	662

Just like people, all plants are not necessarily fond of	58
each other. A plant's welfare depends to a large extent on the other	119 plants in its immediate environment. In this respect, herbs can play an	176
important role by getting rid of pests in an organic manner.	236
	264
Garlic and roses have been friends for ages, so too have parsley and tomatoes. Fennel is the black sheep of the family and does not get on	323
well with other plants, but fortunately, fleas also don't like fennel.	380
Scatter the leaves and seed around pets' sleeping places to keep these	435

If you want to start your own small business, the following hints can be	61 of value to you. Firstly, you must identify a product or service that is	122 necessary in your own or the wider community. Look around, talk to	178
people, read and find out.	240
	245
The next step is to draw up a business plan. Specify your products or services and indicate how affordable it is going to be. Where is your	307 market and who are your competitors? Then you must investigate the	368 risks and write it all down. Decide who is going to manage the	430
business, who is going to do the work and where they are going to	491 work. Draw	543
Up a budget to determine your expenses, how this will affect	605

Colour is a very important element that you must take into consideration	6
when choosing plants. It has the strongest visual attraction in your	119 garden and you can use it to create beds, mark borders or to draw the	174
eye to the distance or the foreground.	235
	254
The latest fashion colours for gardens that is arriving from overseas, is red-hot. Pastel colours are definitely fading and the colours to play	317 with are magenta, red, purple, coral and orange. Together with these	378 colours, dramatic foliage is also popular. The emphasis falls on the	439
shape and colour of leaves as well as contrasting leaves and flowers.	499

Lettergreepverdeling van woorde

1. Woorde bestaande uit een lettergreep mag nie opgebreek word aan die einde van die sin wanneer getik word nie. Die invoegings-/insert sleutel moet gebruik word om die woord in een lyn te kan voltooi.
2. Waar moontlik, moet woorde verdeel word direk na 'n voorvoegsel of direk voor 'n agtervoegsel.
3. Waar dubbel konsonante voorkom, vind die lettergreepverdeling tussen die dubbelkonsonante plaas.
4. Koppeltekenwoorde word verdeel by die koppelteken.
5. Syfers (totale, ens.) mag nie opgebreek word nie.
6. Probeer om nie die tiklyn te beëindig met die voorletters van 'n persoon nie.
7. Probeer ook om nie te eindig met Mnr, Me, Mej en Dr nie.
8. Beplan deeglik en aandag moet gegee word aan die betrokke woorde.

GENERAL DUTIES OF THE WORKER

It is the duty of the worker to:

- Take care of his or her own health and safety, as well as that of other people who may be affected by his or her actions or negligence to act. This includes playing at work. Many people have been injured and even killed owing to horseplay in the workplace, and that is considered a serious contravention
- Cooperate with the employer where the Act imposes a duty or requirements on the worker
- Give information to an inspector from the Department of Labour if he or she should require it.
- Carry out any lawful instruction which the employer or authorized person prescribes with regard to health and safety
- Comply with the rules and procedures that the employer gives him/her
- Wear the prescribed safety clothing or use the prescribed safety equipment where it is required
- Report unsafe or unhealthy conditions to the employer or health and safety representative as soon as possible
- If he or she is involved in an incident that may influence his or her health or cause an injury, report that incident to the employer, and authorized person or the health and safety representative as soon as possible, but no later than by the end of the shift.

Check Your Sitting Posture

If back and neck pain kicks in after you work at your computer, it might be time to change your posture.

Take a few moments to learn some easy ways to make your computer keyboard a pain-free zone.

1. Start With Your Seat

1.1 While you sit at a chair, your legs should be level or slightly lower than your seat.

Both feet should be flat on the floor. If you're any higher or lower, change your seat height. If you're short and your chair won't adjust to the right height, use a footstool.

1.2 Your spine should be in line with the back of your chair, which should be tilt back a little bit.

2. Check Your Monitor

2.1 To avoid straining your neck and eyes, center your computer monitor in front of you, about an arm's length away. The top of the monitor should be around 20 – 30cm above your eye level.

2.2 Type at the right height. A lot of people place their keyboard directly on their desk, so it's just below chest level. But typing at that height for a long time limits circulation and stresses the joints and nerves in your arms, shoulders, and wrists.

Kontroleer die korrekte postuur

As rug- en nekpyn na 'n rukkie inskop tydens tikwerk, is dit 'n indikasie om jou posisie voor die rekenaar te verander.

Neem 'n paar minute en leer hoe om jou rekenaar se sleutelbord 'n pynlose sone te maak.

1. Begin by jou stoel

1.1 Terwyl jy op die stoel sit moet jou bene gelyk of effens laer as jou sitplek wees. Albei voete moet plat op die grond wees. As jy hoër of laer sit, moet jy jou stoel se hoogte stel.

As jy te kort is en jou voete in die lug hang, moet jy 'n voetstoeltjie aanskaf.

1.2 Jou rugstring moet in lyn wees met die agterkant van jou stoel wat so bietjie na agter toe gekantel is.

2. Kontroleer jou Monitor

2.1 Om stremming op jou nek en oë te vemy, moet jy jou monitor reg voor jou sentreer, omtrent 'n armlengte weg. Die boonste gedeelte van die monitor moet so plus minus 20-30cm bo jou oogvlak wees.

2.2 Tik op die regte hoogte. Baie mense plaas die sleutelbord direk op die tafel, sodat dit net laer as die borskas is. Om egter vir 'n lang tyd op hierdie hoogte te tik, beperk die bloedsomloop na die gewigte endie senuweë in die arms, skouers en gewigte.

English is a crazy language.

1. There is no egg in eggplant nor ham in hamburger; neither apple nor pine in pineapple.
2. English muffins weren't invented in England or French fries in France.
3. Sweetmeats are candies while sweetbreads, which aren't sweet, are meat.

We take English for granted. But if we explore its paradoxes, we find that:

- quicksand can work slowly,
- boxing rings are square and
- a guinea pig is neither from Guinea nor is it a pig.
- And why is it that:
- Writers write, but fingers don't fing?
- Grocers don't groce, and hammers don't ham?
- If the plural of tooth is teeth, why isn't the plural of booth beeth?
- If the plural of mouse is mice, why isn't the plural of house hice?
- One goose, 2 geese. So one moose, 2 meese?
- One index, 2 indices?

Doesn't it seem crazy:

- A. That you can make amends but not one amend?
- B. That you comb through annals of history but not a single annal?
- C. If you have a bunch of odds and ends and get rid of all but one of them, what do you call it?

Salutation
Dear Sam,

How are you? I hope you are feeling better after being ill. I've never had chicken pox but I bet it was horrible! My mum has a scar on her chin where she scratched one of her spots so I hope you are careful!

I'm sorry that I haven't written for so long but I've been very busy practising for my piano exam. I'm worried that I'm not going to pass because level 3 is very difficult. The exam is on the 3rd July. I'll let you know how it goes. How are your trumpet lessons going? Are you still enjoying them?

I went to the beach last week because the weather was so nice. My two best friends came too, and we had a brilliant time – playing football and cricket on the sand and splashing around in the sea! The water was a bit cold to start with but we soon warmed up. What have you been doing to make the most of the good weather?

My mum told me yesterday that we are going to visit you in the summer holidays. I can't wait as we always have so much fun playing in the park by your house.

Anyway, I've got to go now and practise on the piano again! I'm looking forward to seeing you soon. Keep in touch!

Love,
Sarah

To finish, sign your name or nickname.

Concluding paragraph: Sign off and invite the recipient to respond. Do not end the letter suddenly.

There is no need to include the address of the person to whom you are writing.

Greeting: You can use the person's first name in an informal letter.

Opening paragraph: Include a greeting and explain why you are writing. Use relaxed and friendly language as you know the person to whom you are writing.

Main paragraphs: Continue to use friendly, informal language. Asking the recipient questions will encourage a response.

Using connectives will help your letter flow.

How you sign off depends on how you feel about the person to whom you are writing. Examples include Love, Yours truly and Best wishes.

Informal does not mean incorrect! Always use correct spelling and punctuation.

RE: Strategic Alliance

Reference Line

Dear Trenz:

Salutation

Thank you for taking the time to sit down and speak with me about a potential strategic alliance. Circle Corp and Square Corp have been bitter rivals over the years. However, as you agreed during our meeting, there are many opportunities for our two firms to work together. I strongly believe my firm can help Square Corp grow by leaps and bounds.

Body

As promised, I have attached a business plan that outlines how our strategic alliance would work. Please look over the details and give me a call at (555) 123-4567. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Closure
